

OUR COMMITMENT TO SECURITY

Polarcus commits to regular and comprehensive risk assessments to identify, evaluate, and mitigate potential security risks in all aspects of our business, in order to ensure the safety of people, data and assets at all times. In addition to the identification and mitigation of physical security risks, this commitment extends to cyber security.

Polarcus implements its commitment to security through compliance with the Polarcus Management System and all applicable regulations of any regulatory body having jurisdiction over the areas of our operations. Polarcus maintains a commitment that no one will be harmed while working for or with us and no systems or data will be compromised.

Polarcus monitors and plans all activities entailing any security risk exposure through a process of risk management. Through the implementation of mitigation measures, the residual security risk at our worksites shall be reduced to As Low As Reasonably Practicable (ALARP).

Polarcus always prioritizes the protection of our people, operations, systems and data. When necessary we identify appropriate professional suppliers to provide security services in any location in which we work.

All employees or suppliers engaged on Polarcus worksites are responsible for reporting any actual or suspected security concerns immediately.

Duncan Eley, CEO